Disposition: This 302 was also serialized as [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] known hereinafter as [REDACTED] date of birth (DOB) [REDACTED] was interviewed at [REDACTED]. After being advised of the official identity of the interviewing Agent and the nature of the interview, [REDACTED] provided the following information:

[REDACTED] is currently an [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated that he [REDACTED] he believed that PAGE transferred into PSYOPS from a different job specialty, possibly tanks. [REDACTED] remembered that PAGE was from Colorado.

[REDACTED] recalled that PAGE's lower legs were covered with tatoos. [REDACTED] did not associate the tatoos with white supremacy. [REDACTED] described PAGE's tattoo art as being associated with or inspired by artwork affiliated with the rockband GWAR.

[REDACTED] did not recall ever seeing any signs of racism from PAGE and described PAGE as soft-spoken. [REDACTED] described the PSYOPS community as racially diverse.

PAGE's neighbor in the barracks was a [REDACTED] soldier named [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

There were also African-American soldiers in their unit. [REDACTED] believed that PAGE would have supervised African-Americans at some point, but could not recall a specific example.

[REDACTED] PAGE [REDACTED] (spelled phonetically)
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated that PAGE left the Army after an incident in which PAGE received disciplinary action. PAGE was not scheduled to have staff duty. The individual who was scheduled for staff duty was unavailable to do it, and called PAGE to take the duty. PAGE had been drinking, but assumed responsibility for the duty. Someone in PAGE's leadership chain smelled alcohol on PAGE's breath and reported him for being drunk on duty. [REDACTED] believed that this was the incident that led to PAGE being removed from the Army. [REDACTED] was not aware if PAGE had any previous disciplinary problems.

[REDACTED] did not remember what PAGE planned to do after getting out of the Army and did not recall what type of discharge PAGE received.

[REDACTED] stated that PAGE liked to drink Jack Daniels.

[REDACTED] did not recall PAGE participating in any clubs or groups, or having a girlfriend, wife, or children.

[REDACTED] stated that the following individuals from Fort Bragg knew PAGE; [REDACTED] and an enlisted soldier named [REDACTED] (spelled phonetically).

Writer's Note: The writer called [REDACTED] to ask follow-up questions regarding the individuals in the above-listed paragraphs. End Writer's Note.

[REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] (spelled phonetically) was a Caucasian male. [REDACTED] was an acquaintance of PAGE's and [REDACTED] believed that [REDACTED] may have been from Colorado. [REDACTED] lived in the same barracks on a different floor.

b7E

[REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] was a Caucasian male and was [REDACTED] has stayed in contact with [REDACTED] and stated that [REDACTED] does not have any white supremacy beliefs.

[REDACTED] stated that he knew FNU [REDACTED] from the 9th PSYOPS Battalion. [REDACTED] could not recall [REDACTED] first name but felt that if he saw a photo, he could identify [REDACTED] knew [REDACTED] as an [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] recalled that PAGE and [REDACTED] were friends, but stated that everyone in the unit was friendly with each other. [REDACTED] did not remember where [REDACTED] was from. [REDACTED] may have gotten married at some point because [REDACTED] no longer lived in the barracks.

[REDACTED] said that [REDACTED] came into the Army after him. [REDACTED] did not remember much about [REDACTED]

NARRATIVE

(U)Information received from tipline. [REDACTED] is [REDACTED] Millbourne, PA. He is concerned that an article written about his town's ethnic diversity for a local newspaper has now appeared on a questionable internet race website called www.amren.com. [REDACTED] stated there were several derogatory remarks in the blob section after the article. He states his community has one of the larger Sikh temples in the area outside of Philadelphia and he is concerned this information could be used to incite or encourage violence against the people of his town. [REDACTED] (FBI - Milwaukee at FBI Milwaukee JOC) - 08/06/2012 08:41 PM CDT]

LEADS FROM FBI Milwaukee Investigations

Lead Number: [REDACTED]
Type: Action Required Status: Covered
To: FBI - Philadelphia
Lead: For action/investigation deemed appropriate. IA to research internet site amren.com Make contact with Sikh temple outside Millbourne, PA regarding any threats.

Disposition Data for Lead Number [REDACTED]Disposition:

On 08/07/2012, SA [REDACTED] and SA [REDACTED] went to the Philadelphia Sikh Society located at 6706-10 Garden Court, Millbourne, PA 19082, (610) 352-4733. Upon entering the building, SAs were met by [REDACTED] Millbourne and [REDACTED] an elder at the temple who spoke level 2 English.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] stated that there were no known threats to the temple, but the Millbourne PD had stationed their one patrol car near the location as a safety precaution. SAs advised [REDACTED] and the elders to call 911 if they noticed any suspicious activity and handed out business cards. Upon exiting the building SAs made contact with the Millbourne PD officer standing guard and he assured SAs that the situation was well under control.

b7E

IA [REDACTED] finished going through the comments (32 total) that were posted after the article about Millbourne on the www.amren.com (American Renaissance) website. There were no derogatory comments about the town itself - a few about Philadelphia in general, but nothing directly targeting or threatening to Millbourne. IA [REDACTED] did bookmark the website for future reference, as there was quite a bit of derogatory information about foreigners/immigrants/minorities on there.

On 8/7/2012 an article appeared in a Philadelphia area newspaper highlighting the precautions that the Gurdwara Sahib - the Millbourne Sikh temple - had taken in response to the events in Wisconsin. A representative of Gurdwara Sahib is quoted as saying that they had not received any threats and there was no indication that their temple had been targeted for violence.

[redacted] first met Page in either 2000 or 2001 at the Rocky Mountain Heritage Festival in Colorado. The festival was a white supremacist music gathering. [redacted] and Page hung out together there. [redacted] and Page would run into to each other afterwards at various white supremacist music gatherings. [redacted] recalled that at some point Page wasn't around anymore and [redacted] lost touch with him for over four to five years.

In 2009, [redacted] heard that Page was driving a truck and was living in the Fayetteville, NC area. (U) [redacted] Walmart Store 1551, 6701 South 27th Street, Franklin, Wisconsin, telephone number [redacted] was contacted at her place of business on 08/09/2012 by Special Agent [redacted] and Detective [redacted] regarding surveillance video footage captured on 07/17/2012. [redacted] provided the following information:

(U) Surveillance camera footage dated 07/17/12 shows a burgundy sport utility vehicle arriving at Walmart Store 1551 at approximately 4:20 p.m. A white male dressed in a black T-shirt and black shorts exited the vehicle unaccompanied by any passengers and entered the Walmart store. Surveillance camera footage shows that the white male purchased items from the DVD section of the Walmart and exited the store soon thereafter.

(U) The surveillance video footage is good quality and includes a front view of the white male exiting the Walmart. The white male has a medium build, a closely cropped hair cut, tattoos covering exposed arms and legs, glasses and a goatee.

(U) [redacted] provided a receipt of the purchase made at 4:48 p.m. by the white male.

(U) An FD-597 Receipt For Property Received was provided to [redacted] for the surveillance footage downloaded to a DVD and for the duplicate point of sale record.

Title: (U) Investigation pertaining to telephone call to Brookfield Sikh temple on 08/04/2012.

Re: 266N-MW-2440609, 08/10/2012

Details:

(U) During the afternoon of 08/05/2012, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] responded to the Sikh Religious Society of Wisconsin (hereafter referred to as Brookfield Sikh temple), located at 3675 N. Calhoun Rd., Brookfield, WI, after receiving information from the Milwaukee Police Department (MPD) a suspicious call had been received by the temple on 08/04/2012. Upon arriving at the temple, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] met, among others, MPD Detectives [redacted] and [redacted], and Brookfield Police Sergeant [redacted]

b6

(U) The FBI and MPD learned the Brookfield Sikh temple received a telephone call the day prior, 08/04/2012, from what sounded like a white male inquiring what time services would be held and what services were attended by the most people. The telephone call was reportedly received at approximately 2:00 PM by the Sikh temple's telephone number: (262) 790-1600. A Sikh representative allowed law enforcement officials to scroll through the temple's telephone caller identification, however, no records from Saturday, 08/04/2012 could be located. It was learned the call in question was likely answered by [redacted] who was later interviewed regarding this matter (Agent Note: See referenced Serial 277 in which [redacted] stated he received said call around 2:00 PM Saturday).

make bombs or target individuals with violence. Hammerskins will always defend themselves, but will do this with their hands and fists. They have their own set of beliefs, but they do not start fights. Every group has some fringe members, but these are mostly young members who get the wrong impression of white power from the media. The older members of Hammerskin are into drinking beer and playing music, but they are not actively seeking violence.

[REDACTED] is sad about Page's death. Page was a good friend and had a difficult life. Page's mother died when he was young. Page was a great guitar player and was the calmest individual [REDACTED]. They last saw one another at a Hammerskin St. Patrick's Day rally in Virginia. It was around this time that Page left for Wisconsin. He must have been lonely, because he did not have any other Hammerskin members in that state.

Through the media, [REDACTED] found out Page quit his job and got his own apartment. [REDACTED] and the other Hammerskin members never knew Page and [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] is probably the only person who knew what [REDACTED] frame of mind was in the days leading up to the killings. Page must of experienced a "break from reality." [REDACTED] is not surprised Page took his own life, since his life was over after he killed the people in the temple. [REDACTED] has no idea why Page targeted the Sikh temple and he may have "mistaken" it for something else. The Hammerskins never would have advocated this type of behavior against anyone.

If [REDACTED] had any knowledge of Page's intentions, he would have tried to prevent him from doing it. [REDACTED] would take a polygraph examination to prove neither he, nor the other members, knew or participated in these killings.

The public does not understand the Hammerskins. They fight more often with one another or other white supremacist groups than with anyone else. [REDACTED] who know his point of views. He has no problem working with them, as long as no one tells him how he should believe.

Page [REDACTED] is a "mellow dude" who had no knowledge of Page's intentions. [REDACTED] drinks too much, but he would never participate in something like this. All of the Hammerskin members are completely shocked by what Page did.

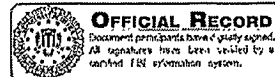

[REDACTED] feels grief for his friend. He loved Page and wishes Page did not kill the people at the temple. [REDACTED] does not feel any grief for those killed, since he did not know them. [REDACTED]

he is not ashamed of what he believes. However, he does not know what possessed Page to do what he did.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of entry 08/09/2012

[redacted] was interviewed at the Cape Fear Harley Davidson located at 3950 Sycamore Dairy Road, Fayetteville, North Carolina 28303. After being advised of the identities of the interviewing Agents and the nature of the interview, [redacted] Cape Fear Harley Davidson, provided the following information:

Wade Michael Page was interviewed and hired for the Cape Fear Harley Davidson Store, on February 3, 2003 while wearing a white long sleeve button up shirt and a pair of slacks. On February 4, 2003, when Page began work, he was dressed in a short sleeve T-shirt, shorts, white knee socks, military boots and numerous large rings on his fingers. Page was also described as having numerous tattoos. Despite Page's appearance, his work habit were considered very efficient, his speech was articulate, and he kept his area "dress, right, dress".

Page worked as an orders and parts collection worker in the service room. Page's duties included taking parts orders, filling new and back orders, and passing the parts onto technicians. Page worked behind a small desk in the service room and did not deal with customers. He was described as quiet and did not appear to associate with other employees. The only known associates Page had, were [redacted] and [redacted]. The store management knew that Page [redacted] [redacted] North Carolina.

From his date of hire till approximately sixty days prior to Page's termination there were no issues with his performance or attitude. Page began to spiral downward in his work performance. His attitude with other employees, especially women employees, also began a downward spiral. Page became more "cocky and arrogant", talking down to and belittling the female employees in the shop. His demeanor changed to argumentative and confrontational.

On August 31, 2004, Page had an outburst with a female employee, [REDACTED]. During this outburst [REDACTED] believed that Page wanted to strike her. Based on Pages recent changes and issues with other employees, Page was terminated. He was escorted to the parking lot and asked to leave by management. While [REDACTED] was cleaning up Page's work space, he found a tri-fold application for the Ku Klux Klan (KKK). [REDACTED] placed the application in Page's employee file. [REDACTED] felt that this was further evidence Page did not need to be associated with the business. Approximately 10 minutes after being walked out, Page returned and asked for the Ku Klux Klan application. [REDACTED] told Page that the application had been thrown in the trash.

Page requested his finale pay. Page was told that it would be placed in his account. Page refused to provide the employee security code that unlocked his in house computer. The computer did not have access to the internet. Page made an appeal to the "Wage Board" for unpaid back-pay. A hearing was held and Page's complaint was not sustained.

After the Wage Board hearing, [REDACTED] did not hear from or see Page again. [REDACTED] remembered being contacted by a trucking company from the 515 area code asking for a referral. [REDACTED] was aware that Page did work as a truck driver in the North Carolina area. The only other information that stuck out about Page, was he was known to play music. One of the unknown employees once said that Page "would not play with any other members other than white". A local night club establishment was known use pick up bands and the members drawn for placement. If Page was drawn to play with anyone other than white players, Page would refuse to play that evening.

alcoholic" and would consume a liter and a half of Jim Beam every other day. [REDACTED] Page attended a few punk rock concerts [REDACTED] emphasized the concerts were punk rock and not "Hate Music" bands. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] recalled that Page would seldom express his white supremacist ideologies out in public, but would express his ideologies through the music he (Page) wrote. [REDACTED] said that many of the lyrics Page wrote promoted the white race and expressed hatred for other races. [REDACTED] said that some of the lyrics even promoted the genocide of other races.

[REDACTED] advised that [REDACTED] Page, Page had owned three firearms. [REDACTED] recalled that Page had owned a .45 pistol, a 9mm pistol, and a shotgun. [REDACTED] Page
